Playing

with the new signature range of makeup Mecca, called Mecca Max. The collection features a whopping 206 products, covering everything from beauty prep to palettes, lash-intensifying mascaras and mirrorball lip glitters. Starting from RRP $5, check out the full range new in Mecca Maxima stores this week. meccabeauty.co.nz

Glowing

after using the Girl Undiscovered natural range on our skin. There are only three products in the line up (so far) – all inspired by beauty rituals from around the world: Under the Waterfall cleansing water ($42, 220ml), Stumbled Across Paradise face mask ($45, 120ml) and Stars Aligning Face Elixir ($65, 50ml). With lovely names and pretty packaging, Girl Undiscovered uses minimal ingredients of maximum quality. We're so impressed with the new New Zealand brand – check it out in selected retailers across the country and girlundiscovered.com on Levantine treats from recently launched Kohko Real Lebanese Cuisine. The range includes batch-made traditional hummus, smoky baba ghanoush, a traditional garlic dip, golden falafel and Lebanese-style pita bread. Following family recipes handed down to her, Natalie Fakoury's products are available at Farro Fresh Food stores and online at foodbox.co.nz from RRP $5.90.

Feasting

Brewing

aromatic Italian coffee at home, popping Tribute to Milano Nespresso pods in our machine. The limited edition grand cru was first offered a couple of years ago, and the rich ristretto has just returned in recyclable capsules. Available in Nespresso boutiques and at nespresso.com, RRP $11.30 per sleeve of 10 capsules.

Sharing

shards of the new Remarkables range of chocolate. The organic dark chocolate bark collection, made in New Zealand from traceable cocoa sourced from Peru, presents four flavours: ginger with salted caramel; marshmallow, toasted coconut and raspberries; roasted hazelnuts and orange zest; and roasted almonds with crispy quinoa. Available in Farro, New World and selected gourmet supermarkets nationwide. RRP $9.
